Couple Wed at Sacred Heart Church

At a mid-morning wedding in Sacred Heart church, Calgary, on Wednesday, Nov. 23, marriage vows were exchanged between Flora Mary Norma, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Little of Carbon, and Anthony Schwartzburger, youngest son of Mrs. William Schwartzburger of Beiseker. Rev. Father Tennant officiated at the nuptial mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a long gown of white georgette which featured sequin trimming at the high neckline and it was misted by a veil of silk net that fell to train length from a coronet of lilies of the valley. A shower bouquet of American Beauty roses completed her attire.

Too-length frocks in shades of pink, blue and yellow styled on similar lines to that worn by the bride were chosen by the trio of attendants, Mrs. Harry Simmonds, sister of the bride, who was matron of honor, Miss Laura Beattie the bridesmaid, and little Lorna Little, niece of the bride who was flower girl. They complemented their ensembles with matching chapel veils, and carried bouquets of carnations while the bridesmaid's bouquet was composed of pink blooms. The flower girl carried a colonial arrangement of carnations and chrysanthemums.

William Schwartzburger and Joe Schleppe attended the groom and the guests were ushered by Ernest Little and Emmitt Feser.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Little where the bride's mother and to-mother of the groom received with the bridal party. Later in the day the bride and groom received their friends at a reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Schwartzburger left later for a honeymoon to be spent at Spokane, Wash., after which they will reside at Trail, B.C. To travel the bride donned a suit of shepherd's checked wool, topped by a Hudson seal coat and worn with black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

OBITUARY

MARY ALBERT

Mary Albert, aged eight years, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Albert, passed away at the Holy Cross hospital, Calgary, last Wednesday evening after a lengthy illness.

She is survived by her parents, three sisters, Annie, Sufield, Teresa and Margaret; two brothers, John and Howard.

Funeral services were held from St. Mary's Church, Beiseker, Friday morning at 11 a.m. Burial followed in St. Mary's cemetery.

Baptist Church Dedication News

Sunday, November 17 was indeed a glorious day of rejoicing at the newly built Carbon Baptist Church. Some 1,500 people entered the doors of the Church throughout the three services of the day. In addition to our own people of some 300 members, we entertained not only our local friends but also many others who came from neighboring churches and even as far as the United States.

The special guest speakers Rev. H. Schatz of Calgary, Rev. H. G. Dymmel of Chicago and Rev. E. P. Wahl of Edmonton. In addition to these speakers words of greeting were brought by Mr. S. Carrott, Mayor of Carbon; Rev. H. Hinchey, minister of the Carbon United Church; Rev. H. Zepic, Baptist minister at Trochu and others.

The one big surprise of the day was the fact we were able to raise more than enough money to pay remaining debt of the church. In addition to the old lumber of the Frudental and Bethel churches and the volunteer labor of our people, the cost of the church came to about $19,000. It is being valued, however, at about $35,000 to $40,000. Of the $19,000 $4,000 was realized by selling church property, of which we had a small amount. About $15,000 was donated by our people throughout the summer. Another thousand dollars was raised by our Ladies' Aid Society and the Sunday School. The remaining $3,000 was the sum realized on that happy day of dedication. The evening offering amounting to $236.00 went for missions.

Needless to say the people of the Carbon Baptist Church are the happiest group of Christian people to be found anywhere in the province of Alberta. In addition to the labors and sacrificial giving of our Baptist people may we also say that many friends of Carbon and district proved their friendship by having donated either money or articles of which we were in need. A hearty "Thank You" to you all.

Please remember that you are most welcome to fellowship with us in this House of God at all times, particularly on the Sunday evenings, as those services are being conducted in the English language. May we continue to build up our community, both materially and spiritually.

E. M. WEGNER,
Baptist Minister

Young People Meet

The first meeting of the United Church Young Peoples' was held in the classroom of the United Church on Tuesday, Nov. 5. A new slate of officers were elected which were as follows: President, Mr. Lambert; vice president, Syd Canning; secretary treasurer, Miss Gouldie. Mrs. C. T. Ross was elected honorary president by acclamation. Conveners were chosen for the three programs, education, Bob Garrett; social, Florence Downe and religious, Mr. Todd.

A very interesting report of the conference held in Calgary was given by Mr. Todd. A word of appreciation was given him for this splendid report.

The second meeting of the U.Y.P.U. was held in the classroom of the United Church Tuesday, Nov. 19. After the business part of the meeting the devotional committee presented its program. The remainder of the meeting consisted of playing games and a contest which was followed by a lunch. A very enjoyable evening was spent by everyone.

It is far easier to despair generally than to change specifically.

Walter Bertsch, Alvina French Married

A quiet wedding was solemnized in the Nazarene Church at Calgary when Alvina Joy, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.E. French of Didsbury became the bride of Walter Herbert, only son of Mrs. E. Bertsch and the late Mr. Bertsch of Carbon. Rev. T.E. Martin officiated at the wedding which included a double ring ceremony.

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She was attired in a floor-length gown of white satin with lily pointed sleeves and a full length veil. She carried a spray of red roses. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

The bride's attendant was her cousin, Nancy French of Edmonton, gowned in a blue net over taffeta with pink trimmings and who carried a spray of pink carnations.

The groom was supported by Reuben Spady of Castor, Alta. Verne Hopper and Raymond Spady acted as ushers.

Norma Bertsch, sister of the groom, presided at the piano, and during the signing of the register Mrs. P. Fraser of Calgary sang "Through the Years."

A reception was held later in the banquet room of the Empress Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertsch left by car for Banff and various other points. For travelling the bride chose a costume of Banff blue with dark brown accessories. On their return the happy couple will take up residence near Carbon.

Sidney Coates Married at Calgary

Miss Doris Quesseth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quesseth Calgary, and John Sidney Coates, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Coates, Carbon, announce their wedding which took place at Hillhurst United Church at Calgary November 16 at 2 p.m., Rev. A. Finnis Marsh officiating.

The bride was assisted by her young sister, Inez. Richard Jacobs, Grainger, was groomsmen.

After a reception following the ceremony the young couple attended a dance given in their honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Coates will make their home in Calgary.

Junior Ladies' Aid Meeting

A regular meeting of the Junior Ladies' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. Greenles on November 18th. It was decided not to have a meeting in December which will make the next meeting on January 21.

A new member, Mrs. E. Fox, was welcomed to the Aid.

After the business meeting a lovely lunch was served.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

Difficulties with Different Prices

Great Britain, under the Wheat Agreement is to be supplied with 160 million bushels for each of two years, which is around 60 million bushels per year more than Britain in the past has used of Canadian wheat. But Britain is given the right to resell, anywhere she desires, any surplus of Canadian wheat she does not need for herself. Mr. Strachey, the British Minister of Food, has just announced that some of the Canadian wheat is to be supplied to Germans in the British Zone of Occupation and to the people of Mauritius, Ceylon and Malta at $1.55 and that some quantities of this surplus will go to India also at $1.55. Mr. Strachey further announced that Britain will also supply South Africa with some of this Canadian wheat, but at the world price (which at present is $2.23 a bushel) and that Canada will receive the difference in price on the South African sales.

So we see that some countries of the British Commonwealth of Nations will be paying $2.23 for Canadian wheat and that other countries, still of the Commonwealth, and Germany, will receive wheat at $1.55. These discriminations in prices are not calculated to create much good will for Canada as a supplier of world wheat.

The big idea in life is not to be "as good as the average" but to raise the average.

Deadline Near To Fill Forms

Because a few competitors in have not filed their application forms for judging the Contest Committee this week gave final warning that for those holding their barley on their farms for seed this is the last week.

Each contest has already received an application form for grain judging. Those holding their barley for seed must fill in the bottom part of it.

The last day for mailing it is Saturday Nov. 30. Mail it to the National Barley Contest Committee at 206 Grain Exchange, Winnipeg.

Contestants shipping a carload lot entry have a little longer to send in their application forms. For them the last day is December 15.

To Reduce Weed Seed Spread

The Alberta department of agriculture has been requested to prohibit custom seed cleaning except by permit. We know that we cannot get rid of weeds by planting them, but a surprising number of weed seeds are drilled into our fields every year.

The custom cleaning plant is replacing the individual fanning mill in many districts. When under careful management the custom cleaners do effective work and render a very useful service. When carelessly operated they are a menace to the community. In the case of a farmer with weed seeds like wild mustard or hoary cross patronizing the cleaning plant, the careless operator will spread these weeds to the farms of most of his other patrons.

The provincial government, municipal councils and farmers spend large sums to control weeds, but to keep weeds in check co-operation is required from all interested in good farming. As a safeguard against mixing seed of new weeds into otherwise clean grain during the cleaning process, all operators of seed cleaning equipments must now make application for a permit.

Permits are issued by the field crops branch without charge, in all cases where the operator can satisfy the department that his cleaning equipment is adequate and properly operated.

Food For Peace

HISTORY HAS SHOWN that war and rebellion have frequently been the direct result of lack of food. People who are hungry are desperate and are willing to attempt any means of improving their conditions, making them a ready prey for unscrupulous leaders and distorted idealogies. It is now recognized that one way to keep peace among the nations is to ensure equitable distribution of food in every part of the world, at prices which will make it available to all levels of the population. With this end in view, the United Nations' Food and Agriculture Organization, which has proved so far to be one of the most active of the United Nations' organizations has proposed an international granary to be administered by a permanent world food board, combining the work now carried on by U.N.R.R.A. and the international emergency food council.

Stable Prices Are Proposed

It is proposed that world food prices could be stabilized by such a board if minimum and maximum prices were set on foods on a basis of the anticipated supply and demand. In the case of any commodity being in excessive supply, and the price falling below the minimum, the board could buy it up, until the price was stabilized. In reverse, it could place on the market additional supplies of foods whose prices had risen above the maximum. It is also proposed that the board should organize a six to twelve months' food reserve, to be used in case of crop failures should any one commodity be produced in such quantity as to threaten the world balance, the board would have the power to set export quotas between the producing nations. Funds would be necessary for the operation of a board of this nature and it was suggested that these could be raised, in part, at least by contributions from the nations benefitting from its services.

Might Produce Wide Benefits

In suggesting the plan for a permanent world food board, the Food and Agriculture Organization emphasized that development of trade and industry would be necessary for its success, since they provide the money to purchase food. The outcome of these proposals should be watched with interest, for they may have a very important effect on the course of events in the future. Any matter connected with agriculture is also of vital interest in this country and a plan which would ensure stability of prices for farm products would affect a large part of our population. Farmers have suffered much in the past due to world market conditions which are far beyond their control, and a well organized world food board, such as the Food and Agriculture Organization has proposed, might bring considerable benefit both to producers and consumers in many parts of the world.

Rationing Expected To End When New Book Runs Out

The new ration book No. 6 is expected to be the last ration book to be issued, Prices Board officials said. They confirmed that the absence of the usual application blank in the new books means that it is expected to see the consumer through to the time when rationing will be discontinued. "The No. 5 book lasted approximately two years," a spokesman said. "It is thought the book now being issued will end rationing. That is as far as we can go at the moment."

Birds For Canada

Shipment Of Animals Has Arrived From Britain

Nine birds (seven of which were canaries) and eight valuable dogs arrived in Montreal recently from London, England. The dogs, which included one valued at over $4,000 comprised four champion bulldogs, a cocker spaniel, and three Welsh corgis (squat, short-haired, terrier-like animals). The corgis are valued at over $1,000. The bulldogs were destined to Duncan, B.C.; the corgis to North Hatley, Que., and the cocker spaniel to Abbotsford, B.C. The seven canaries were destined to Windsor, Ont., and two racing pigeons were bound for Calumet City, Illinois.

Production And Distribution Of The Essentials Of Life Alone Can Solve Problem Of Scarcity

(By Lewis W. Douglas in an address at a dinner in New York)

OFTEN, by contrasting the times in which we live with those that have gone before, men can obtain a perspective—a view of the course they have been pursuing—and of the sum total of the accumulated changes that have occurred. Contrast frequently provides a measure by which conduct may be reassessed and old views once firmly held may be retested and adjusted.

"All our hopes of the future," said Prof. Frederic Harrison, "depend on a sound understanding of the past." Therefore, let me ask you to turn your memories backwards to the condition and the estate of Europe as it was only 25 years ago at the close of World War I.

Italy, although she was about to start on a path leading to moral corruption and disintegration, sat at the council table of the victors—a power in the Mediterranean.

Belgium—partly ravished by the invading hordes—emerged with a government intact and an environment shaken, but unchanged.

Holland—and the Dutch Empire—remained unscathed, with the lines to her overseas possessions unstretched and unfrayed.

France—tired—with hundreds of thousands of her young men lying beneath their crosses—about to experience a monetary inflation which was destined further to reduce her middle class and to shrivel the moral strength of her people—emerged from the conflict as the greatest military power on the continent of Europe.

Russia was caught in the throes of a revolution that was to reduce her to impotence for more than a decade.

Germany—if defeated on the field of battle—remained undismayed, undestroyed—the integrity of her productive facilities fully preserved.

If England was exhausted—if the blood of the best of her younger generations had drenched the soil of France and Europe from Mons to the Dardanelles—she remained the greatest creditor nation on earth—the greatest exporter—she was mistress of the seas.

Thus, though cracked and showing signs of wear, the ramparts of the Western world remained intact.

And we—with superficial justification—unsupported by substance or by logic—lapsed back and languished in our continental isolation—confident that the pillars of western civilization in Europe—though weakened—were still strong—assured that the bastions of our continental defences remained to be assaulted, scaled and demolished, before any hostile force could reach out across the seas to molest our tranquil lives.

Now these pillars have been razed to the ground.

Now these ramparts have been demolished.

Now Europe lies in ruins. Throughout that vast stretch of the Continent—from the Urals to the Pillars of Hercules—I venture the assertion that there has been a visitation of devastation, destruction, and desolation—economic, financial, political, and moral—unparalleled in the long and tedious history of the human race.

Everywhere—in varying degrees—in France, in Holland, in Belgium, in Switzerland, in Italy, in the Balkans, and in the Danubian Basin—the physical destruction of productive facilities and transportation has been necessarily accompanied by shocking deficiencies in food and coal—the bare necessities of human life. Sources of supply—of the essentials of living—have been shifted, if not extinguished. Production languishes; populations face starvation.

Financially, throughout most Europe each national monetary and fiscal system—differing in degree only—is uneasy, quivering on the shifting sands of accumulated debts and heavy expenditures.

Politically, almost everywhere government's have been exterminated by the evil forces of Hitler's occupying armies. And the tidal wave that swept over Europe after those evil forces were driven out has not yet, in many countries, receded far enough to reveal the form and structure of legitimate political institutions. Thus, the margins on which we formerly relied—the bastions which twice within the short span of a quarter of a century protected us and provided us with that amount of precious time in which we successfully mobilized our strength—have been destroyed.

The problems created by the holocaust of war are incalculable both in their magnitude and in their significance.

I venture the assertion that we will find no adequate answer unless we deal forthwith with the central point of the European economy—Germany. And I suggest that only through a loosely associated federation under a central government of limited and meagre powers with the Ruhr and Rhineland separated from her politically can we avoid the impossible administrative task of controlling her production. Only under this general sort of a reconstructed system can Germany's peacetime productive energies be safely released and encouraged for the benefit of Europe as a whole.

I venture the suggestion that without a France rebuilt in concert with our ideals there will be no return to tranquil living in its own interests unless we extend that reasonable amount of support which will give her the opportunity to heal the wounds caused by war and a humiliating occupation.

Nor will this disjointed world be restored to order unless we extend to Britain in full measure that amount of aid—preferably not dressed up in the raiment of a loan—with which she may recapture most of the strength she has necessarily lost in her gallant struggle to defend the basic ideals of Christendom. The United Nations to which we pin our faith may mature to that stature necessary for it to become the preserver of the peace only if it be supported by a United States resolutely committed to the role of the greatest power on earth. Confronted with confusion and disorder, in the face of an overpowering need, can we fail to give to the outside world the one unmistakable symbol of our resolution—the one unimpeachable evidence of our determination to exercise our strength, to nourish the United Nations during its infancy wherever that strength may be necessary.

But no purely mechanical schemes for the restoration of order, no mobilization of military strength however great can long preserve the peace unless they commend themselves to the conscience of mankind.

Production and distribution of the essentials of life—unrestrained by government interference—unhampered by trade obstructions—unshackled by nationalistic monetary barriers—alone can solve the problems of scarcity—this, supported by that amount of force necessary to preserve order, alone can slowly establish the bases of an enduring peace.

Trained as we have been in our continental tradition—will we possess the understanding, the sensitiveness to our own welfare and security, so as to discharge our new responsibilities irrevocably associated with our status as the mightiest power on earth so that we will hew out of this disordered world a lasting peace among us and all nations?

The stakes are high—higher perhaps than they have ever been in history.

Time and our own resolution guided by a light that remains unclouded will cast the dice.—From "Think" Magazine.

A National Post-Graduate University Is Suggested For The Betterment Of Mankind

(By Henry Mick in Ottawa Citizen)

AS a Canadian contribution towards making permanent the kind of world for which so many of our men and women recently gave their lives, I suggest the initiation of a movement dedicated to bringing into being a National Post-Graduate University.

This institution would be devoted exclusively to research and advanced studies. Since this article was first drafted a despatch from Canberra announced plans to found a university on similar lines in Australia.

The above suggestion is not intended to reflect in any way on our present universities, some of which now offer a wide range of post-graduate courses. These may well be continued and possibly enlarged.

One reason for advocating a national university is the fact that Germany, where in past years many Canadians did their advanced work, for that purpose has disappeared from the academic map. The leading universities of Britain and the United States are of course available and it is to be hoped an interchange of students with these countries will be maintained.

As carried out at present, however, post-graduate work abroad does not promote our Canadian academic morale; it provides a perpetual temptation to our best men to remain abroad after graduation with irreparable loss to Canada. An investigation in 1944, for example, disclosed that in 20 United States universities alone there were 350 Canadian-born teachers.

The type of post-graduate university I have in mind would not only meet this situation; it would give our own country an ample supply of highly-trained personnel in all fields of interest and need. With such resources available, childish talk of saturation-point in our development would end; we could push back our frontier indefinitely.

Canada again needs a vast civil service, much of which requires a high standard of technical training. And the need for technical advisers for ministers of state burdened with a growing volume of international affairs is steadily increasing. Where better to train such men as in our own national university?

Admittedly the initial cost of such an institution would be very great. And to assemble a faculty equal to the best in the world in itself would be a tremendous undertaking—an objective which would take several decades to complete.

A start could be made with some of the most urgently-needed faculties, such as the Humanities, especially literature and history; medicine and surgery; the physical sciences; applied sciences; social sciences; international law, and others. As facilities became available other faculties could be added. Or perhaps the university could be built about a truly national library, organized along the lines of the British Museum Library and the Library of Congress at Washington.

Some readers will be surprised at my placing the Humanities at the head of the list of first needs. For some time our wisest prophets have been warning us that our greatest danger lies in permitting our material and mechanical achievements to outrun our social, moral and spiritual status. A great university of the kind outlined here could perform no greater service to the world than to redress this unbalance.

As for location, there is no doubt much to be said for either Montreal or Toronto. But perhaps the best spot is the capital itself, Ottawa. For here our bi-national prestige could be utilized in its finest form. Also to be considered would be the reciprocal impact of Parliament upon university and vice versa, and beyond that the impact upon the Dominion and the world.

Speed Limits

Motorists Have A Responsibility To Drive Carefully

Ontario's speed limit for highway traffic is once again 50 miles per hour. The signs notifying motorists of their right to drive that fast are reappearing, now that the Dominion regulation holding the speed down to 40 miles has been rescinded.

This should not be taken, however, as an open invitation to get up to and stay at the 50-mile speed under all circumstances. Under certain conditions, such a speed is recklessly dangerous both to drivers and public. Motorists should be given to understand that they have a responsibility to drive carefully at all times, of which they are not relieved simply by the figures on a roadside sign.—Windsor Star.

HUMAN FACTS BEHIND THE FIGURES

Merchants, businessmen and people in every sort of enterprise borrow a lot of money from the B of M. One of these was Mr. P. R. B., an expert baker, who, after service with the Forces, wanted to own a small wholesale bakery again. Lacking the ready cash, he came to the B of M, obtained a $500 loan, and is now running a profitable little business. Thousands of business men—with big enterprises and little ones—use B of M loans to help them in their financing. The dollars they borrow oil the wheels of commerce and industry, facilitate production and create employment.

B of M Personal Loans helped no less than 157,020 people during the past year—people like Mr. A. L. T., who needed money to help him finish constructing his own home. He got three B of M Personal Loans, totalling more than $600, over a period of 18 months, and he has paid them off regularly in monthly instalments. Now his home is in fine shape and the loans are repaid. Interest cost of loans: $32.53.

Over 500 people from every walk of life come to the B of M every business day to borrow for personal needs.

BANKING is not the mysterious business some people are inclined to think it. In its fundamentals, it is no more complex than any other type of business.

The chief difference is that, instead of dealing in goods, your bank deals in money . . . money which belongs mainly to you and to the many other Canadians who deposit their funds with the bank.

At the B of M, for instance, well over a million people have placed on deposit close to one and three-quarter billion dollars.

This money doesn't stand idle . . . it works to earn its keep.

This is why, as you will see here, some of the dollars left at the B of M are lent to merchants, businessmen and manufacturers to assist them in their operations, while others are used to finance the needs of governments. Some enable farmers to improve their farms, buy machinery and market crops. Many others go out to help citizens in their day-to-day financing—in meeting emergencies and in taking advantage of opportunities.

The sum total of all these transactions makes interesting reading, not so much on account of the figures themselves, but because of the human stories behind them.

At the close of the B of M's business year, it seems a good thing for these dollars to show what they have been doing and for the Bank to report on the transactions which it has undertaken for its customers from coast to coast.

Farmers all across the Dominion use the B of M to finance their needs in buying seed, cattle and machinery—in marketing crops—and in improving their farms generally. This means more prosperous farming communities—and bigger agricultural production to meet the urgent needs of a hungry world. Typical of these go-ahead farmers is Mr. R. B. L., who wanted to clear and break 50 acres on his farm. The job would cost $325, but his ready cash amounted to only $125. With the aid of a B of M farm improvement loan of $200, he completed the job and has considerably increased the production and profits from his farm.

To municipalities, school districts and governments, the B of M is constantly lending money for undertakings that benefit the whole community. Take the case of an Ontario town, which—to pay for a new sewage system—was selling debentures amounting to $305,000. The Bank of Montreal bought 44% of the issue, a total of $134,000, which is now being used by the town to complete the undertaking.

Many municipalities use the B of M's facilities to finance community improvements and to handle their financial transactions generally.

If you are a B of M depositor, then it may be your money which assisted Mr. P. R. B. to buy his bakery—which helped Mr. A. L. T. finish constructing his home—which enabled Farmer R. B. L. to make his farm more profitable—and which helped finance the new sewage system for the Ontario town. That working money of yours is part of $1,700,000,000 which well over a million Canadians have deposited at 498 B of M branches from coast to coast. Each one of the 1,531,658 B of M deposit accounts is an expression of trust in Canada's first-established bank, which has been working with Canadians in every walk of life for 129 years.

"MY BANK" B of M Reporting

WHAT THE B of M HAS IN RESOURCES TO MEET ITS OBLIGATIONS:

CASH . . . The B of M has cash in its vaults and money on deposit with the Bank of Canada amounting to . . . . .	$ 192,687,153.28
MONEY in the form of notes of, cheques on, and deposits with other banks. . . . .	98,358,231.24
INVESTMENTS: The B of M has well over one billion dollars invested in high-grade government bonds and other public securities, which have a ready market. Listed on the Bank's books at a figure not greater than their market value, they amount to . . . . .	1,099,728,432.17
The B of M has other bonds, debentures and stocks, representing to some extent the extension of credit to industrial enterprises for reconversion from wartime to peacetime production, and for expansion of productive facilities in established fields. Valued at no more than the market price, they amount to . . . . .
	$6,022,926.42
CALL LOANS: The B of M has call loans which are fully protected by quickly saleable securities. These loans amount to . . . . .	59,391,558.13
QUICKLY AVAILABLE RESOURCES: The resources listed above, all of which can quickly be turned into cash, cover 85.35% of all that the Bank owes to the public. These "quick assets" amount to . . . . .	$1,506,188,301.24
LOANS: During the year, many millions of dollars have been lent to business and industrial enterprises for production of every kind, including housing and construction—to farmers, fishermen, lumbermen and ranchers—to citizens in all walks of life, and to Provincial and Municipal Governments and School Districts. These loans now amount to . . . . .	301,659,974.44
BANK BUILDINGS: In hamlets, villages, towns and large cities from coast to coast the B of M serves its customers at 498 offices. The value of the buildings owned by the Bank, together with furniture and equipment, is shown on its books at . . . . .	10,575,688.13

TOTAL RESOURCES WHICH THE B of M HAS TO MEET ITS OBLIGATIONS . . . . .	$1,843,985,587.40

WHAT THE B of M OWES TO OTHERS:

DEPOSITS: While many business firms, manufacturers, merchants, farmers and people in every type of business have large deposits with the B of M, the bulk of the money on deposit with the Bank is the savings of more than a million private citizens. The total of all deposits is . . . . .	$1,736,212,708.35
BANK NOTES: B of M bills in circulation, which are payable on presentation, amount to . . . . .	5,512,707.50
OTHER LIABILITIES: Miscellaneous items, representing mainly commitments undertaken by the Bank on behalf of customers in their foreign and domestic trade transactions totalling $21,538,615.59. . . . .	23,003,885.74
TOTAL OF WHAT THE B of M OWES ITS DEPOSITORS AND OTHERS . . . . .	1,764,729,301.59
TO PAY ALL IT OWES, THE B of M HAS TOTAL RESOURCES, AS SHOWN ON THE LEFT SIDE OF THIS STATEMENT, AMOUNTING TO . . . . .	1,843,985,587.40
WHICH MEANS THAT THE B of M HAS RESOURCES, OVER AND ABOVE WHAT IT OWES, AMOUNTING TO . . . . .	$ 79,256,285.81
This figure of $79,256,285.81 is made up of money subscribed by the shareholders who own the Bank and, to some extent, of profits which have from time to time been ploughed back into the business to broaden the Bank's services.
PROFITS: After making provision for contingencies, for depreciation of Bank premises, furniture, and equipment, the B of M reports a profit (including an adjustment in United Kingdom Taxes 1938-46) for the twelve months ended October 31st, 1946 . . . . .	$ 10,263,782.91
Provision for Income and Excess Profits Taxes . . . . .	5,776,000.00
Leaving a net profit of . . . . .	4,487,782.91
Of this amount, shareholders (paid dividends at the rate of 80 cents a year, plus an extra distribution of 15 cents, for each $10-share of the Bank) received or will receive . . . . .	3,420,000.00
Thus, the net amount to be added to the balance of profits from previous years' operations is . . . . .	$ 1,067,782.91

WORKING WITH CANADIANS IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE SINCE 1817

Price Skylines Changing Overnight

New York's famous skyline that has been the pride of the United States for years practically stays the same. The Statue of Liberty and sky scrapers, and all the shining towers of Manhattan still loom above the sidewalks, but her price skylines are changing over night, and no one knows where the next peak will appear.

Before the 'mikes' were cold after President Truman's famous 'ceilings off' speech, prices began to rise and in less than a week many had more than doubled and the end is not yet.

In Miami steak was $1 per pound, chopped steak 85c, while chops at Pittsburgh were $1.05 a pound. In Chicago, butchers chalked up $1 per pound for spare ribs. Some butchers whose conscience pricked them a bit promised a price roll back within a month.

In Philadelphia beef roast sold at 80c a pound. In Nebraska (the cattle country) housewives urged a meat boycott and carried banners in parade urging that meat prices be forced down.

The New York Times said "following the end of meat control, prices went skyward, and in some cases even higher than former black market prices."

The department of markets reported that "after a city-wide check, that most retail prices were 50 percent or more above the ceilings eliminated a week ago. Lamb appeared the best buy, with average prices 25 percent above the former price ceilings. Beef steak remained at $1 a pound. The old ceiling had been 64 cents. Butchers all over were reporting that women were walking empty handed out of shops in protest against the high prices."

Such prices as $1.05 per pound for steaks were not uncommon for meat hungry people to pay while veal chops sold at $1.30 a pound, cutlet at $1.10 a pound and calves liver at $1.10 a pound.

A mid-town delicatessen store offered bacon at $1.19 a lb., the ceiling eight days earlier had been 42 cents.

Sky scrapers of New York make an interesting and beautiful picture against the sky but sky high prices aren't quite so easy on the eyes, or on the pocketbook.

Marjorie Roppel Winner

Announcement that Miss Marjorie Roppel of the Rockyford Junior Grain Club had won the Canadian Junior Seed Wheat Championship at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, was enthusiastically acclaimed Wednesday by members of the Drumheller and District Board of Trade. The gratifying information was received by District Agriculturist N. F. Bell from Mr. G. S. Black, supervisor of Junior Activities and Training.

Miss Roppel is the 1946 Drumheller District Junior Wheat Champion and holder of the Toshach Cup, annexing the district championship at the Drumheller Junior Grain Fair at which members of the Rockyford, Wayne, Drumheller and Craigmyle Clubs competed. Consequently, by her notable achievement of winning the Canadian title, Miss Roppel has not only brought great honor to herself and the Rockyford district but to the Drumheller and District Board of Trade, who for the past 12 years have been holding the Drumheller District Junior Grain Fair and inviting all clubs in the district to compete.

Not only is Miss Roppel the Canadian junior wheat champion and the Drumheller district junior wheat champion, but further laurels were garnered by the Roppel family, her sister, Audrey Roppel, captured second place in the Canadian junior wheat championship. Audrey Roppel was runner-up at the Drumheller Fair so it is a case of a double crown for Miss Marjorie Roppel and a double runner-up position for her sister Audrey.

It is definitely certain that winning Canadian, provincial and district junior wheat championships flows in the blood of those boys and girls who form the membership of the various clubs in the Drumheller district so it is orchids to Marjorie Roppel and Audrey Roppel, on their outstanding success at the Royal Winter Fair.

OFF THE RECORD

It is said along Parliament Hill that if many Canadians had more self control they would need less governmental control.

Prunes Up

The Prices Board has announced a four to five cent increase per pound in the retail price of prunes.

This increase reflects the recent uncontrolled price rise in the United States, the Board said.

Canada's supplies of prunes are purchased through the Commodity Prices Stabilization Corporation, and instead of meeting the higher American prices by increasing the subsidy, the Board has adjusted the retail price.

Herbert Busch, Donald Sutherland Married in Calgary

A wedding took place in the vestry of St. Joseph's Catholic church (November 20) when Donald Sutherland, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Sutherland of Acme, was united in marriage to Mr. Herbert J. Busch of Rockyford. Father J. Q. Killen performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white silk organdy over satin fashioned with a high neckline and a fitted bodice. A coronet of orange blossoms held her embroidered veil and she wore elbow length lace gloves and carried red roses. Her only ornament was a gold bracelet, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Margaret Sutherland was her sister's bridesmaid and James Dahm attended the bridegroom.

Mrs. Sutherland and Mrs. Busch received 35 guests at a reception at the Empress Grill. Miss Louise Battle was soloist and a toast to the bride was proposed by Father Killen.

For travelling to Banff the bride donned a turquoise blue wool frock and a muskrat coat. Her accessories were black.

Mr. and Mrs. Busch will reside in Calgary.

Token Values for Canned Sausage

Effective November 15th, consumers will be able to obtain two 14 ounce tins of canned sausage for five meat tokens or one 12 ounce tin for two tokens, the Prices Board has announced.

Previously, four meat tokens were needed for one 14 ounce tin, officials said.

They explained that this action was taken because the current supply of canned sausages was sufficient to warrant this increase in the ration.

It was pointed out that canned sausage includes canned sausage meat, canned bologna sausage, canned weiners and canned frankfurters.

A change of policy is only convincing if it comes from a change of heart.

Lots of people keep looking for a fire escape when they ought to be part of the fire.

It's no use wanting a change unless you want to change.

It's good to know what the matter is—even better to know what matters.

Simple Language

Boys At English School Advised To Use Plain Speech

BURY ST. EDMUNDS, Suffolk, England.—A warning against the modern trend to impose a "dreadful gentility" on English speech was given boys of the King Edward VI school here by Sir Ronald Storrs, former Governor of Cyprus and Rhodesia.

"English is the most direct speech in the world," he said. "Why should we say 'footwear' instead of 'boots', 'slumberwear' instead of 'pyjamas' and 'corsets' instead of 'stays'?"

Then he gave these "don'ts": "Don't call, as I understand county councils have done, the rat-catcher a 'rodent executive'."

"If you give something to someone don't donate it."

"Avoid claptrap expressions, don't tack the word 'actually' and such as 'definitely yes', onto every sentence."

Answer To Last Week's Puzzle

The Farmer's Job

Only Wants A Fair Price For What He Produces

The (farmer's) job is not finished—hunger is abroad in the world, granaries are being swept clean. Hunger may not be far from our own door. But, farmers are not taking advantage of scarcity to force prices to unreasonable limits.

They do want their fair share of the consumer's dollar, which will permit a standard of living comparable with those working and living in urban centres. This is being sought through organizations of local producers affiliated with country, provincial and Canadian federations of agriculture, and now carried a step further by forming an international body.

By negotiation rather than by strikes or slow downs producers hope to get a fair price for their products based on cost of production and to avoid such a paralyzing depression as occurred in the thirties when industry suffered also because of the low purchasing power of the farmer. —Farmers' Advocate.

No Frills For Them

Alexander Children Are Being Brought Up In Proper Way

The two sons, and daughter, of Viscount and Lady Alexander of Tunis may have famous parents, but the fact hasn't been allowed to interfere with their training. They are required to do things for themselves, just like any other children.

When they were being escorted from the hotel in Calgary to go aboard their father's special car for the continuation of the vice-regal tour, they appeared in the hotel lobby carrying their own hand baggage, some of it fairly heavy. Hotel staff members sprang from all directions to assist them, but they were gentle: waved aside by the children's governess.

"They're being brought up properly," she explained. "They will carry their own bags." And carry them they did.

One of their companions on the train was asked what the children thought of their famous father.

"They don't know he's famous," was the reply. "No one has ever told them."

Run Up and Down Stairs

"I feel in duty bound," writes Mrs. A.J.W., "to express my gratitude for the better-than-expected results my father has obtained from Kruschen Salts. He is ninety-two years old, and is as fit as a fiddle. He can nip about, and run up and down stairs. His friends marvel why it is he is always alert and never feels slack. He always tells them, 'I believe it is my regular dose of Kruschen Salts in my first cup of tea every morning.' We always recommend Kruschen Salts to all our friends. To my idea, no family should be without Kruschen."

Most people grow old long before their time, and many of them neglect that vital need of health—the need for internal cleanliness.

The majority of these people could feel so much better and brighter . . . yes, feel more spry, too . . . if they would follow the Kruschen plan for a while. Simply take a small morning dose of Kruschen Salts in tea, coffee or hot water. That's all there is to it. Lessen the dose or discontinue altogether when you are regular. After that take when you need it. Two sizes: 25c and 75c at all druggists. Ask for Kruschen.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

The Wrong Scent

By GEORGE N. JAMES

Copyright
Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

FOR the past few days Mr. Ebenezer Twigg has been goin' about with nose bandaged up. Jest who is responsible for this condition no one seems to know unless it be young Stan Brown, old S. H. Kent, or the Rev. Miles. Anyhow most folks here in Clarksville is purty pleased to see Mr. Twigg sufferin' that way. They allows it serves him right.

Fer plain downright trouble makin', Ebenezer Twigg is way ahead of anyone else in Clarksville. Folks blame it on that nose of his. Long and shiny it is, seemin' to fair twitch at the end. On account of this here nasal organ Mr. Twigg kin smell out scandal or any other kind of Ruckus when it's miles away. In fact, this same nose has more than once smelled trouble when no trouble existed.

Jest to give you an idea of the kind of person this here Twigg is, there ain't nothin' that is ever perfect in his eyes. He's always writin' letters to the paper, complainin' about one thing and another. One day it's about the disgraceful condition of the long grass in his neighbor's front yard and the next it's about the infernal noise his neighbor's lawnmower is makin'. That long beak of his is forever pokin' into other folks' affairs.

It was a bad day fer young Mr. and Mrs. Stan Brown when they comes back from their honeymoon to occupy the apartment right next to Mr. Twigg's. That long nose of his fair quivers with joy, like an old war horse that smells the smoke of battle. Newly married bliss is somethin' that Mr. Twigg can't abide no-how. Bickerin' and quarrellin' he kin appreciate but these here honeyed words of young married folks is way beyond his ken.

Mr. Twigg figgers that if he waits long enough he'll hear them quarrellin', so night after night he spends with his ear pressed to the wall that separates him from the young couple. He kin hear them talkin' all right, ken hear that sweet liltin' voice of Mrs. Stan and the jolly rumblin' tones of her big young hubby. However, to Mr. Twigg's disgust, not one cross word does he hear. This constant listenin' does one thing fer Mr. Twigg. He becomes so familiar with the sound of them two pieces that he'd swear he could pick them out of a million.

Well, sir, it's maybe two weeks since the young Browns moved in. Mr. Twigg, early one evenin', is passin' by their door on the way to his own rooms. He hears voices and jest from force of habit steps to listen. The man is speakin'.

"Darlin'," he says, mushy-like, "I love you. Every day you grow more beautiful than ever."

Mr. Twigg's nose twitched with delight. That voice don't belong to Stan Brown. To make sure, Mr. Twigg claps his eye to the keyhole but the folks in the room ain't within his line of vision. All aquiver, this here Twigg person stocks around and listens. By and by he hears Mrs. Brown's voice.

"You know I love you, too, John," she says, "more than you understand—but what kin I do?"

Mr. Twigg is sure joyful when he hears this. She said "John" and her husband's name is Stan. He must act purty quick. Ah! He would find Stan Brown and tell him to git home as quick as possible. No, that wouldn't do. Husbands were sometimes a mite too cantankerous. By golly, witnesses! Yes, sir, he'd bring witnesses up and surprise the hussy. Flout a love affair under Mr. Twigg's very nose, would she? He'd show her. The trollop!

Mr. Twigg no sooner reaches the sidewalk than he spies old S. H. Kent. Here's a bit of luck because S. H. happens to be young Brown's boss.

"Mr. Kent!" calls out Twigg. Then he tells him the whole story. Old S. H. flares up and says Lord help Twigg if he ain't tellin' the truth. Just at that moment who should come by but the Rev. Miles. On hearin' the deplorable state of affairs, he consents to be witness No. 3.

With Mr. Twigg leadin' the way, the procession climbs to the Brown's apartment. Outside the door, Mr. Twigg holds up his hand for silence.

"Then you will fly with me to-night, my beloved one," the feller is sayin'." "To the ends of the world," answers the girl.

Mr. Twigg glances significant like, throws open the door and the three of them bursts into the room. "A purty occurrence," sneers Mr. Twigg.

Then his mouth falls open and he stands there gapin', his face the color of a ripe tomato. There they are, Mrs. Stan Brown and her husband. Young Stan Brown glares. "What the devil," he asks, "is the meanin' of this intrusion?"

Old S. H. Kent looks as though he's goin' to hev a stroke at any moment. "The fact is Brown," he says, "we expected-er, that is-er, ah, hum—" Then he turns on Mr. Twigg. "You sir," he bellers, "are responsible. Tellin' us another man was makin' love to Mrs. Brown!"

"Did he say that?" barks Stan Brown. "He did," replies S. H. "Furthermore he brough us up here to testify to her guilt, the snivellin' busybody! Told us a cock and bull yarn about yer wife and some other feller puttin' on a love scene, the rat!"

"I am deeply obliged, gentlemen, fer yer interest," speaks up young Brown. "The fact is my wife and I hev been rehearsin' a radio play I wrote. Possibly because I hev to raise my voice to record properly, the righteous Mr. Twigg did not recognize it."

As stated afore, Mr. Twigg is goin' about now with his nose in a bandage. Consequently he can't smell so much trouble of late.

Proposed Tunnel

May Be Built Across The Clyde
In Scotland

GLASGOW.—The Glasgow project of building a bridge across the Clyde at Finnieston, debated for 40 years, will probably be abandoned in favor of a cross-river tunnel costing more than $12,000,000.

This is the recommendation of the city's highways and planning committee and the whole council will discuss the matter soon.

In 1937 a formal decision was made to build a high-level bridge costing £1,250,000 but the war caused postponement of construction. Some land was acquired, however. The suggestion is that it be used to build new factories.

Buenos Aires is the largest city below the equator.

Farm Competition

Two Quebec Farmers Were Awarded
Gold Medal

QUEBEC.—J. A. Eccles of Sweetsburg and Philibert Audet of Comp-ton have taken first and second place respectively in the 1946 Agricultural Merit competition for farmers of the province, Minister of Agriculture Laurent Barre announced.

The two farmers become Commanders of the Agricultural Order and will be awarded the Gold medal at the Quebec provincial exhibition. Mr. Eccles placed first with 932.5 while Mr. Audet obtained 920 points. In the silver medal section, Raoul Poltras, of Ste. Helene, Bagot County, headed the list with 905 points. The competition this year attracted 79 candidates in the different classes; professional farmers 11, gentleman farmers 2, silver medal 38, and bronze medal 28.

PLAN BIGGEST TELESCOPE

British optical engineers are eager to carry out what would be their biggest job—construction of the 100-inch telescope planned as a national memorial to Sir Isaac Newton. Estimated cost of the telescope is between £1,500,000 and £2,000,000. It will take several years to build.

HOW TO RELIEVE PILE TORTURE QUICKLY AND EASILY

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from any druggist and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost. If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money.
